Here are just a few Success Stories from the thousands of Greene County residents who have benefited from mental health and recovery services:

“Not only has my son been able to meet his fears and rage with calm, he is back to being the cute little boy I knew. His grades are improving — he makes sure he does his homework! To top it off, he is able to show affection for the first time in many years.”

— A Parent in Beavercreek

“I had a nervous breakdown in 2002. For 7 years I had severe panic attacks every other day. I’ve learned that change doesn’t come all at once. I now have a part-time job and the ability to even speak in public without a panic attack.”

— A Man from Jamestown

“I got addicted to narcotics after back surgery. I pushed everyone away, friends and family both. I found recovery at Creekside and TCN Behavioral Health Services. I’ve reunited with my family and even written my congressman about how effective treatment is.”

— A Single Mom in Xenia

“My son’s mental health therapist at his school has been a wonderful help for him and my family. Her ongoing support of my son and the ways she helped his teacher help him succeed was a godsend; we couldn’t have done it without her.”

— A Parent from Bellbrook

“I drank and used drugs until I lost everything. Local resources held me together when I went for help. Now I have a GED and a scholarship at Wright State University. My wife and my 4-year-old daughter and I are all together again.”

—Former High School Drop-out from Fairborn
